THE case of the British steamer Wechawker L. Living, R.A., T. A. Isat, R.A., B. W. is an example of a danger to which tank steamers are exposed. She got off without trouble, but the impact strained the bulkheads aft, and the oil poured into the stokehole, catching fire. She was instantly beached, and no

DISASTROUS FIRE AT WUCHOW. (From Our Own Correspondent.) Wuchow, December 1.

A serious fire occurred in the eastern suburbs of Wuchow to day. About a hundred houses immediately to the east of the Temple of Confucius were burned down; but the temple was spared and will afford shelter to some of the poor bemeless people to-night. The fire broke out about heen, and although two manual engines and steam pumping station were promptly at work the flames spread with great rapidity among the bamboo structures behind Messrs Butterfield and Swire's property. One foreign hong is said to have suffered.

The present town is a mean, wretched. and filthy place. Broader streets, properly laid, are an absolute necessity for cleanliness and health. If, during the course of rebuilding the damaged section, the opportunity were taken to relay its streets at least two cheong in width, the wretched state of the town would be slightly improved, and a gratifying indication afforded of the likelihood of future betterment.

As a His Lordship said this matter was very preliminary, the tipos were ordered to summon all proprietors of opium dens and retail shops belonging to the new Bund district to appear yesterday morning before the Bureau Director Mr Chu, to state the extent of business conducted by each in order to form a basis for the projected tax. Much to Mr Chou's surprise the tipues told him vesterday that these proprietors had flatly refused to appear and that they had declared also their unwillingness to pay two taxes. Mr Chu then ordered tipace to take down the notices at the doors of the opium dens and retail shops which answer. ATTE TO COMMITTEE

This stratch game on Saturday was pro ductive of phenomenal cricket. Mr Cax won the toss, and batted first, and with 207 runs on and only an hour and a half to play Mr Cox was justified in believing he might safely apply the closure and send in the opposing side. As it happened, all calculations were upset. Mr T R. Hubback, at present on holiday from the Straits, treated all the bowling with scant courtesy, and was not out at the call of time with 161 runs opposite his name, the result of free but attractive and first-class cricket. Some tall hitting by Dr Atkinson and Mr Sercombe Smith helped out the total, and Mr Smith's side won an interesting match which has established several cricket records for the Far East, if not for the For Mr Cox's side, Arthur and Anton, who did so well at Shanghai in the Interport Match, and who have since been batting well here, batted in fine form, Anton scoring another century and remaining not out for 114 runs. His hitting was again fearless, clean and well-timed, one drive Gunner T. G. Smith registered his third | carrying the ball over the trees at the City Hall end. The 297 runs were coored in 27 Bedwell ..... hours, at the rate of 108 runs per hour. High as this was rate, it was completely Wall eclipsed when Mr Sercombe Smith's side | Nicholas went in. It was policy, of course, to force hitting, and the batemen set about their task in the most workmanlike fashion. Hancock, unluckily, went before he had scored, and it was not till Dr Atkinson loined Hubback that a win was made possible. The first 100 was made in 40 minutes; in the hext 50 minutes 204 runs were notched, the average being thus 245 rung per hour ! The finish was worthy of such a match. Smith joined Hubback at 220, with 78 runs required to win. 15 minutes 84 were hit off-40 off the last three overs. Thus, during the last quarter of an hour, the rate of sco ing was 336 runs pe hour! We hope to see Mr Hubback at the wicket once again before he leaves for the Straits. Unly aix maiden overs were bowied during the afternoon. Scores :---
